What is a Civil Investigative Demand?

- Often called a "CID."
- Pre-litigation investigative tool used by the government to request information.
- Used by both the federal and state governments during investigations pursuant to their statutory authority.

Civil Investigative Demand - Authority

- 31 U.S.C. § 3733 Authorizes the Attorney General, or his designee, to serve a CID on a person or entity if there is reason to believe there is evidence relevant to a False Claims Act investigation.
- Many states have similar provisions.
  - For example, Virginia's state FCA, the Virginia Fraud Against Taxpayers Act (Va. Code § 8.01–216.1 et seq.), contains language similar to the federal FCA.

What Can The Government Obtain?

CID Scope is Broad – government must have "...reason to believe that any person may be in possession, custody, or control of any documentary material or information relevant to a false claims law investigation..."

Documents

Oral Testimony

31 U.S.C. § 3733

CID INVESTIGATIVE TOOLS

What Does It Mean If Your Company Has Received A CID?

- Essentially, it means the serving government entity believes the company may have evidence related to the subject(s) of its investigation.
- The company may or may not be the target of the government's investigation.
- A CID can stem from a qui tam case or from an investigation that is government initiated.

What Can A CID Tell You?

- Can sometimes indicate the stage of the investigation.
- Can often indicate the potential subject matter of the investigation based on the requests in the CID.
- Can indicate what government entity/entities may be investigating the company (national vs local in scope).

What Happens After A CID Is Received? Contact legal department/counsel Counsel will contact government to discuss receipt, production, and scope Collect documents responsive to CID's requests Production to government

Best Practice Considerations

- Reach out to company counsel right away.
- Contact the government ASAP (usually through counsel).
- Contact IT/affected staff to ensure data-retention procedures are put in place so that the company can preserve any information requested by the government (i.e. hold letter, etc.).
- Involve an ESI vendor early in the process.
- Cooperate in good faith.
- Complete production by the deadline unless an extension has been granted by the government.

Result of Noncompliance?

- Noncompliance with a Civil Investigative Demand can result in the issuing government entity seeking court enforcement.
- > For example:
  - United States can file a petition for enforcement 31 U.S.C. § 3733(j)(1)
  - Commonwealth of Virginia can file a petition for enforcement - Va. Code § 8.01-216.18.

Are CIDs Only Used in FCA Cases?

- The short answer is no. CIDs are used in contexts other than FCA investigations.
- Some examples are:
  - Antitrust Investigations 15 U.S.C § 1312
  - Consumer Financial Protection Investigations 12
     U.S.C § 5562
